Enjoy A Vacation Without Breaking the Bank

From booking your vacation to choosing a place to stay all the way to actually getting to your destination, it's no surprise that vacations are stressful and expensive. Here are a few tips to help you get the most out of your family time without breaking the bank.

- Plan Ahead Open a Vacation Savings Account at MCCU, and start making regular deposits. You'll be surprised how fast your savings grows!
- Book a Home Instead of a Hotel Hotels are expensive. Some websites allow homeowners to rent their homes or condos out directly to you, often at fraction of the price of a hotel.
- Be Flexible Be realistic in your travel expectations. Do your research and find what works best for you and your budget. Don't limit yourself to grand locations when great vacations could be just a few hours away!
- Don't Limit Yourself to Major Airlines Discount airlines fly throughout the United States. Much of the time parking is free at their airports and baggage fees are low. Plus, you can bundle hotels, flights and more on their websites to save even more.
- Skip the Travel Agent Booking your own vacation is easy. There are many websites that compare rates and will offer the cheapest price for what you're looking for.
- Travel Off-Season Money isn't the only reason to consider this option. The off-season is also the time of year with the least amount of tourist activity.
