Andrea Tucker Named NYIB Delegate of the Year

Andrea Tucker, Financial Education Coordinator at Marshall Community Credit Union, recently received the 2018-19 Delegate of the Year award at the National Youth Involvement Board (NYIB) annual conference in Washington, D.C. The award recognizes individuals for their support and dedication to youth financial literacy and NYIB goals.

Tucker began her career at MCCU as a part-time teller in 2005. With a background in education, she quickly took over the role of overseeing the credit union's in-school branch program. Since then, five additional schools have been added to the credit union's list of partner schools and their youth education program has grown. Currently, operating a total of 9 in-school credit union branches, offering free financial classroom presentations, mini-grants for teachers, scholarships for graduating high school seniors and more.

"Andrea's commitment to financial literacy and the credit union philosophy, throughout our communities, is evident in the work she does every day. She is passionate about our youth and I am pleased that an organization like NYIB has also recognized her for the impact she has had on so many," said Heather Luciani, CEO of Marshall Community Credit Union.

"Andrea has been actively involved with the National Youth Involvement Board for several years and is always willing to help. She has been a break-out session presenter at past conferences and has served as the Michigan state delegate for the past 3 years. This year she launched a donation letter campaign to Michigan credit unions that raise additional funds for NYIB," said Jeremy Cybulski, NYIB Chairman.

"It was a true honor to receive this year's Delegate of the Year award," said Tucker. "I am truly blessed to be able to work for an organization that not only supports my passion of youth financial education, but also allows me to connect with others across the nation, in my same field, by being a part of NYIB. The knowledge I've gained and networking opportunities I've had are priceless," she continued.

Not only did Andrea receive the Delegate of the Year award at the NYIB annual conference, but was also recognized as one of the top 5 presenters, based on number of presentations given (by credit unions in the $150-499 million asset category). And, the state of Michigan as a whole, placed number one in total number of reported presentations given (a total of 3,731) and number three in total number of students reached (a total of 92,865).
