Serendipitous Moment as Rehabilitated Owl Released at New Build

COLDWATER, MICHIGAN – In April 2023, a Coldwater resident encountered a Great Horned Owl injured and unable to fly. Upon feeding it to build up its strength, the resident reached out to Wildside Rehabilitation & Education Center, a non-profit federally licensed wildlife rehabilitation center in Eaton Rapids, to provide additional treatment and care.

The goal was for a successful rehabilitation and release back into its natural habitat. On May 23, 2023, the owl, affectionately named Edmund, was released back into its local, natural habitat, at 688 E. Chicago Road, in Coldwater, Michigan.

There is more to this story.

The Coldwater resident is the architect involved in the construction of the new location for Marshall Community Credit Union (MCCU) in Coldwater, and MCCU's mascot happens to be an owl. "As we finalize our site plans and prepare to break ground, the unfolding of this story is quite serendipitous," says Corrie Rozell, CEO, MCCU. "The rehabilitation and release of the owl, nature's symbol of wisdom, good luck, and fortune, at the site of our new location was a beautiful thing to experience."

A $500 donation was made to Wildside Rehabilitation & Education Center. MCCU anticipates breaking ground this summer.
